ROYSE CITY HIGH SCHOOL'S NEW TIGERTURF IS "NUMBER ONE FIELD" IN TEXAS

"Can't say enough good things" - rapidly growing high school near Dallas pleased with Texas Sports Builders, installer of new advanced technology TigerTurf

Greg Strahm, Head Football Coach and Athletic Director, Royse City High School:

"I feel that our football field and great facilities are second to none. Our athletes, coaches and fans all agreed we have the number one field in the state of Texas."

The new synthetic turf, installed in summer, 2008, by Burleson-based Texas Sports Builders (TSB), was manufactured in Austin, Texas, by global synthetic turf manufacturer TigerTurf.

Nicky Morris, Maintenance Director, Stadium Manager and Facilities Director:

"It's a nice, nice, nice field – everybody is happy with it.

He said Strahm and the school's other coaches were closely involved in selecting TigerTurf, as they've had exposure to a wide array of synthetic products.

"We wanted something that will hold up – a high quality system. With TigerTurf we believe we have one of the top three fields in Texas. We can't say enough good things about TigerTurf and about Texas Sports Builders."

He said TSB's crews were extremely professional, extremely responsive to the school's needs.

"The installation went smoothly, they did what they said they would do and their follow up has been extremely good," he added. "I have already recommended both TSB and TigerTurf to others."

The new field, part of Royse City's $13 million stadium project, has hosted several football games and practices and will be used for a myriad of sports and activities, including playoff games.
